

Recent events

12 Feb 2015 Tomorrow's World - Future Cities and Transport

The Women's Transportation Seminar (WTS) hosted an excellent event focusing on the future of urban transport in the context of megacities with a panel of guest speakers including Michèle Dix CBE, Caroline Haynes and Camilla Ween. The panel members shared their views on the transportation challenges faced by fast growing cities, proposing possible solutions and outlining what is likely to change. Find out about more WTS London events here

Upcoming events

6 – 8 March 2015 WOW!

The Southbank Centre is hosting the Women of the World festival to celebrate to the achievements of women. There is a mix of free and paid activities such as mass speed mentoring (Friday 6 March, 2.30pm, free). You can also purchase a pass which will give you access to all the activities. Find out more here

10 March 2015 All Change!

Did the First World War transform the lives of London women? Evening talk hosted by the London Transport Museum. Join Beverly Cook, Museum of London's Working and Social History Curator, as she uncovers the lives of women in London before and during the First World War.

To be in with a chance of winning a pair of tickets. Simply answer the following question: Which London bridge is sometimes known as Ladies Bridge?

Closing date: 27 February 2015, 5pm

Win
tickets
here

19 March 2015 Industry debate

This house believes we do not need to be labelled feminists to bring about change.

Lively debate between Mark Hansford, Editor of New Civil Engineer and Michèle Dix CBE, MD of Crossrail2 on the effectiveness of the term 'feminist' in bringing about change, with a focus on the wider transport industry. This event is open to all but please register your interest here

Time: 6pm – 7.30pm

Location: Cruciform Lecture Theatre, University College London

International Women's Day

To celebrate International Women's Day and in keeping with the theme of Paint It Purple we are encouraging everyone to wear an item of purple on Monday 9 March.

Tweet us at @transportwmn using the hashtag #PaintItPurple and #YOWIT

Go live online

The 100 Years of Women in Transport homepage is now live and kicking! Read about the programme here and share the link with those who are new to the campaign.

We have also expanded onto Twitter and Instagram where you can find up to date information on programme activity and events, join the online campaigns and share useful links. Follow us @transportwmn on Twitter and Instagram.

And finally, if you haven't already, join our LinkedIn group to receive updates on the programme, participate in industry discussions and build your network across the industry.